The HIPA Library, being a special library, provided the students with an opportunity to understand the unique functions and services offered in such specialized information centers. The Librarian of HIPA personally guided the students through the library and explained its organizational structure, collection, and operations in detail. This interactive session helped students understand the functioning of a special library and its role in administrative training.

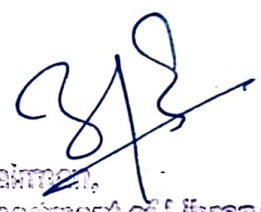

Sh. Rahul Lamba, Joint Controller and Incharge Library, addressed the students and shared valuable insights into library management and services. Furthermore, the Additional Director of HIPA also interacted with the students, sparing his valuable time to discuss various professional topics relevant to library and information science.
